ALLIANCE OF ACTORS AND PREACHERS

NEW YORK, June 22, 1899.

Colonial Dames of America, Colonial Dames of the State of New York or National Society of Colonial Dames, which is the real thing in Colonial Dames? That's the question. The trouble is not a new one. For a long time the Society of Colonial Dames of America, organized on April 13, 1891, has claimed exclusive right to the erm "Colonial Dames." Mrs. Elizabeth C. Gardiner is its president. The other day this society served an injunction on the other two bodies restraining them from using that term in their titles. Mrs. Howard Townsend is the president of the Colonial Dames of the State of New York, which association was organized and incorporated in April, 1893, and is an offshoot of the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames of America. This state society was organized—but is not incorporated—in the same year as the Colonial Dames of America, and promptly organized sister societies in other cities, with a view to forming a federation. It succeeded so well that associates were established in almost all the states of the Union, when the title of the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America was adopted. All of its branches work in harmony and hold biennial sessions in Washington. The general organization apphed for a congressional charter in 1896, as did the Colonial Dames of America, which only has branches in Philadelphia and Baltimore. Both applications were refused. In its application for an injunction the plaintiff organization says that the use by the defendant associations of the name is greatly injurious to the original society, both financially and socially, and that the title "Colonial Dames" attracts members who otherwise would join the original society. Colonel Franklin Bartlett is counsel for the Colonial Dames of America, and the rival associations are represented by Bowers and Sands. Several prominent society women have been examined by commissions in Washington, Philadelphia and other cities, and their depositions will be read upon the trial. The case is now on the calendar of the special term of the Supreme Court.

Actors and Preachers in Accord. oclates were established in almost all the

More in the United States, to which actors who are distressed may turn for assistance. All the congregations in turn were notified that the meeting was to be held, and enough responded to fill the Berkeley Lyceum. In the auditorium the proportion of church people to actors was about ten to one. On the platform sat Bishop Potter, Father Ducey, the Rev. Joseph Reynoids, F. F. Mackay of the Actors' Society of America, the Rev. Dr. Lubeck, the Rev. F. Moran, A. C. Beltwin, Rabbi Silverman, Gen. D. MacIntyre and the Rev. Thomas Slicer. Among the players in the audience were William E. Owens, Alfred Fisher, Roland Reed, Laura Burt, Miss Sydney Cowles and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chartens. Bishop Potter, who said he had never been inside a theater, but admitted the good of the institution, explained that the time had come for the churches and actors to look forward to each other for help. This, he said, was the object of the alliance. Another object was to do away with Sunday performances and concerts. The Rev. John Reynolds, vice president of the Church Association, was chosen chairman, and the Rev. Walter Bentley, who was once an actor, went into the details of the proposed alliance. He said said it was to embrace all sects and creeds. the details of the proposed alliance. He said said it was to embrace all sects and creeds.

said it was to embrace all sects and creeds. Every town visited by theatrical companies was to have a chaplain presenting the alliance, who was to administer to the needs of any member of the organization who might apply. Letters from Viola Allen. Frederick Warde, S. Delancey Townsend and Rev. W. P. Faunce, indorsing the movement, were read. Rev. Walter E. Bentley offered resolutions on Augustin Dalys death, which were unanimously adopted. Membership lists were opened, and most of the people present joined and deposited their subscription fee of $1.

Naval Militia's Practice Cruise. The practice cruise at sea of the New York state naval militia will be made this summer on the United States converted cruiser Prairie, Capt. M. R. S. MacKenzie. which has been detached for the season on this special duty along the coast by Secretary Long of the Navy Department. The Prairie was formerly one of the packet boats of the Morgan line. In preparation for the cruise Capt. J. N. Miller of the New York naval militia has issued his orders, which detailed the organization for duty as follows: On July 27 the first naval battalion of this city and the second separate naval division of Rochester embark on the Prairie for an eight days' cruise. Upon the return of this detachment the second naval battalion of Brooklyn assumes charge of the Prairie for an eight days' cruise. After leaving this port the Prairie will continue on her trip along the coast to Boston, where it is planned the Massachusetts naval militia will take its tour of duty at sea. on this special duty along the coast by Sec-

Trouble Between Factions in the Turkish Party Present. LONDON, June 23 .- The correspondent of the Daily News at The Hague describes the "great effort the sultan is making to induce the Dutch government to suppress the meetings of the young Turkish party." He

"A meeting was announced, at which the speakers were to be Achmed Riza Bey, Ammeghian, an Armenian, and Lewakowsky, an Austrian Pole. The government summoned the speakers to prove their possession of financial resources, the absence session of financial resources, the absence of which would be the only ground upon which their expulsion could be decreed. This shabby trick failed, and the meeting was held, but it had an extraordinary result. Turkhan Pasha, the first delegate of Turkey, sent his secretary. Rechid Bey, to challenge the young Turkish leader to a Turkey, sent his secretary, Rechid Bey, to challenge the young Turkish leader to a duel. Riza replied that they were both guests of a country where dueling was unlawful, and that he would not help the first Turkish delegate to commit a crime. Of course, the sultan is behind all this, and his chief of police is coming here to look after the young Turks. 'The German delegates are still without instructions on the arbitration question."

Regarding Explosive Bullets. The delegates at The Hague yesterday declared in favor of any state using any new explosives or new inventions for ordnance, Russia and Bulgaria alone refraining from voting. The question of dumdum bullets was discussed, Maj. Gen. Sir John Ardagh of the British delegation, declaring that Great Britain did not desire to use any projectile inconsistent with the principles of modern war, and that dumdums should only be used against an uncivilized foe.

The conference finally resolved in favor of prohibiting the use of bullets which easily spread or flatten out in the human body, such as explosive bullets, bullets in a hardened case, which does not entirely cover the point, or bullets with an incision. The British and American delegates alone voted in the negative. The use of any new The question of dumdum bullets was dis-voted in the negative. The use of any new explosives in projectiles from balloons was prohibited for five years. The question of restraining the introduction of new types restraining the introduction of new types of rifles was deferred.

Count Soltyk's report was then taken up. It declared that the subcommittee, though unable to agree regarding the proposed abolition of naval rams, submarine terpedo beats, and the use of explosives, had declared against the use of asphyxiating gases, which the first committee also approved.
